

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

- WHEREAS, giving individuals who have been held accountable for their crimes a chance to become contributing members of society is vital to a criminal justice system that reduces crime rates and prison populations, decreases taxpayers' burdens, and makes our communities, state, and nation safer; and
- WHEREAS, individuals returning from prison and those who have paid their debt after committing a crime face significant challenges that can contribute to recidivism, which increases victimization and decreases public safety; and
- WHEREAS, attaining the skills and abilities necessary for work and securing gainful employment are key to the successful re-entry to civilian life for millions of Americans with criminal records; and
- WHEREAS, steady work not only provides a stable income, it also helps reinforce responsibility, restore self-worth, and affirm human dignity while contributing to a stronger nation; and
- WHEREAS, a robust coalition of businesses, congregations, and other organizations across the country has celebrated Second Chance Month since April 2017 through prayer walks, Second Chance Sunday services, briefings, social media campaigns, advocacy, press, Second Chance 5Ks, and other events and activities.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Henry McMaster, Governor of the great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim April 2021 as

SECOND CHANCE MONTH

and April 26 - 30, 2021, as

throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to help raise awareness about the need for closure for those who have paid their debt and encourage the creation of opportunities for individuals, employers, congregations, and communities to extend second chances to them.
