INTRODUCTION:

“The 2000 U.S. Census estimates that 16.8 million civilian, non-institutionalized Americans from ethnic and racial minorities have long-lasting disabling conditions or impairments (Waldrop, 2003). When looking at the relationship between disability and employment, researchers have found that minorities with disabilities are often at increased risk for unemployment (Smith Randolph & Andresen, 2004).”

The SC Commission for Minority Affairs has implemented a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the SC Vocational Rehabilitation Department (SCVRD) and the SC Commission for the Blind (SCCB), to connect those minorities with disabilities to the services they need in order to achieve their employment and independent living goals. These agencies can provide professional interpreters for those whose native language is not English.

South Carolina Vocational Rehabilitation Department

The South Carolina Vocational Rehabilitation Department (SCVRD) provides a variety of services to persons with disabilities, with the primary focus on retaining or securing competitive employment. This state agency provides services to all disabilities (physical and mental), other than legal blindness.

“To be eligible for VR services, you must have a physical or mental barrier to employment, need help to overcome it, and be able to benefit from VR services.” Included within these “barriers”, are disabling conditions such as diabetes, learning disabilities, depression, attention deficit disorder, etc.

Eligible individuals can receive such services as: Comprehensive evaluation, information technology training, substance abuse recovery treatment, and job readiness training. Specialized services are available for those with hearing impairments and youths in school. Other specialized services include both probation and parole and cardiac rehab.

SCVRD has offices and work development centers across the state. Below is their website address and main contact info:

South Carolina Commission for the Blind

The South Carolina Commission for the Blind (SCCB) provides a variety of services to persons who are legally blind, with the primary focus on retaining or securing competitive employment via its Vocational Rehabilitation Program.

“A person may be eligible for services if they have a vision impairment that affects their daily activities at work, school, or home. For most services, a person must meet one of the following conditions:

- Meet the legal definition of blindness:
  - they have a central visual acuity of 20/200 in the better eye even with the best corrective lens (they see at 20 feet what a person without a visual impairment would see at 200 feet), OR

- they have a visual field of 20 degrees or less
(they see objects within 20 degrees of the direction they are facing while a person without a visual impairment would see objects within 180 degrees).
- Have a progressive visual condition that will result in legal blindness.
Legal blindness or a visual disability must be verified by an eye examination that is current within one year.”

The Prevention of Blindness program can provide the following services to those who meet the financial guidelines and are without insurance coverage: eye exams, eye glasses, cataract surgeries, and retinal detachment surgeries.

ABLE South Carolina

Website info:

Able SC is a Center for Independent Living (CIL), an organization not about “helping” people with disabilities, but built on the central concept of self-empowerment. It’s a consumer-controlled, community-based, cross-disability nonprofit that provides an array of independent living services. We do everything it takes to empower people with disabilities to live active, self-determined lives including advocacy, services, and support. More than half of our staff are persons with disabilities, as are over half of our Board of Directors. We didn’t just learn this– we live it!

Able SC offers core services to the following counties in the Midlands and Upstate: Abbeville, Anderson, Calhoun, Cherokee, Chester, Clarendon, Fairfield, Greenville, Greenwood, Kershaw, Laurens, Lee, Lexington, Newberry, Oconee, Orangeburg, Pickens, Richland, Saluda, Spartanburg, Sumter, Union, and York. However, many of our programs are statewide.

South Carolina Talking Book Services

South Carolina Talking Book Services is a free braille and talking book library service for people with temporary or permanent low vision, blindness, or a physical disability that prevents them from reading or holding the printed page.

Talking Book Services functions as a regional library of the National Library for the Blind and Print Disabled.

This free library program brings reading materials in digital audio and Braille formats straight to the homes of patrons from preschoolers to centenarians. Books on digital cartridge, digital talking-book players and Braille books are sent to patrons via the U.S. mail at no cost to users. People who sign up with the program also have the option of downloading books and magazines over the Internet in audio or braille format through an app called BARD.

To obtain services, individuals and institutions must submit an application form. The completed form must include the signature of a Certifying Authority. Certifying Authorities include, but are not limited to - medical doctors, optometrists, registered nurses, rehabilitation teachers, licensed social workers or librarians.
